

'FIRST ANNUAL DOCTORAL SYMPOSIUM ON ARAB AND MUSLIM MEDIA RESEARCH'

Saturday 28th April 2007, King's College, University of London
The Strand Campus, London WC2R 2LS
All sessions take place in Room 2C

PROGRAMME

TIME	SPEAKER	TOPIC
09:30 – 10:00	Registration + Teas and Coffees
10:00 – 10:10	Dr Nouredine Miladi, CAMMRO University of Northampton, UK	Introduction and welcome
Arab/Muslim Media from the West
10:10 – 10:55	Chair: Khaled Hroub, Cambridge Arab Media Project - Mohamed Ali, Chief Executive, Islam Channel - Adnan Faour, Al-Hiwar TV	- Muslim Media in Europe and the 'War on Terror', the Experience of Islam Channel - Arab media & diasporic audiences
Media & the Construction of the Other
11:00 – 12:10	Chair: Dr Noha Mellor, University of East London - Corinna Mullin, London School of Economics - Nathan Roger, University of Wales (Swansea) - Charmaine Stanley, University of Toronto - Miguel Otero, University of Santiago de Compostela (Spain) - David Arn, University of Zurich	- Constructing the Savage Other - Revolution in Military and Media Affairs: the Al-Jazeera Connection - The Mouse that Roared? ICT, Peace-building and Civil Society - The Image of the Arab and Muslim World in the Spanish Press - The Iranian Public Discourse on drugs and drug policy
12:10 – 12:25	Coffee Break
Media In European Muslim Diaspora
12:25 – 13:40	Chair: Dr Winston Mano, University of Westminster - Amy Byer, University of Edinburgh - Corina Lacatus, University of California - Sarah Keeler and Kameel Ahmady, University of Kent and UK Kurdish Organisation - Mona Abdel-Fadil, Oslo University	- "Parallels of the Other: Constructions of Identity within Turkish-German Cinema as Portrayed in 40m2 of Germany" - What is Blatte? Migration and ethnic identity in contemporary Sweden - Kurdish Satellite TV in Europe - Surviving Media Attacks on Muslim Identity
13:40 – 14:40	Lunch Break
Media and New Perspectives on Conflicts and Confrontations
14:40 – 15:55	Chair: Dr Gareth Stanton, Goldsmiths - Søren Lerche Mørck, University of East London and University of Roskilde - Bader Al-Saud, University of Westminster - Rachel Sternfield, University of Texas at Austin - Rena Bivens, University of Glasgow - Olivia Allison, King's College London	- Mapping the Islam Channel's construction of the conflict between the East and the West - Impartiality? The Journalistic ethos of Al-Jazeera's and BBC World's coverage Iraq invasion 01-03 to 01-04, 2003 - The Internet: a unifying or divisive force in society? - New Media and the Blogosphere - Northern and Southern Nigerian media coverage of religious riots
15:55 – 16:10	Coffee Break
Media & Arab/Muslim Identity Formation
16:10 – 17:25	Chair: Dr Nouredine Miladi, CAMMRO - Imad Karam, City University London - Amira Halperin, University of Westminster - Iveta Kourilova, Charles University in Prague - Ehab Halal, Copenhagen University	- Satellite Television, Identity and Youth in the Arab World - Hamas Use of the Internet - Islam and the New Media - Islam as an instrument for women empowerment? - Constructions at religious Arabic TV
17:25 – 18:10	Dr Gareth Stanton, Head of Department of Media & Communications, Goldsmiths, University of London	- What chances are there to publish your work?
18:10	Conclusion	